More footage for Traveling man video

During a recent trip to Las Vegas I managed to get some time to add some more places to the list for the Traveling man video. This is really progressing nicely but needs some more places to make it work, especially the Far east and Australia.

Live DVD is progressing well

The Live DVD shot at the Tube club in March is progressing well although a lot of work is still to do. Not just the video editing but the audio remixing for surround sound also needs to be done. Hopefully I can get this ready for a July release. This Live DVD and CD will be available exclusively through Key Music Records. More details as soon as I have them.
